

MEXICAN REPORT CONCERNING FATEFUL BATTLE AT CARRIZAL

Dallas, Tex., July 12.—El Pueblo, official organ of the Carranza government, in its issue of July 1, received here today, printed the official report on the fight between Mexicans and American troops at Carrizal. The report comes from Lieut-Col. Genovevo Rivas who took command of the Mexican troops after General Felix Gomez was killed. The report was made to General Gonzales at Juarez and sent by him to Mexico City. It follows: "I have the honor to report to you that on June 21, at 7 a. m. an American force composed of 80 or 100 men appeared here. By order of General Felix G. Gomez, I went out to confer with the commander of said force to learn the object of its presence. He said that he was looking for a gang of bandits that were in this vicinity. "I told him there was no gang of bandits operating in (Continued On Page Eight)

TEUTONS CLAIM CAPTURE OF OFFICERS AND MEN, FRENCH ARMY RESTING

(Bulletin) Berlin, July 12.—(Via London)—German troops on the right bank of the river Meuse yesterday pushed forward their positions to a point nearer Souville and the Laufé woods, taking 39 officers and 2,106 men says the official statement issued today by the German army headquarters' staff.

(BULLETIN) Berlin, July 12. (Via London)—Russian troops which attempted to establish themselves on the left bank of the Stokhod river in the advance towards Kovel, were attacked by German troops and defeated, the war office announced today.

New York, July 12.—The Associated Press expert sums up the war situation as follows: German resistance to the British offensive along the Somme front took the form last night of strong counter-attacks which at two points made dents in the new lines established by General Sir Douglas Haig's army. Heavily reinforced the Germans made a determined drive at the British front. According to the British official account of the fighting all the attacks were futile except those directed at Mametz and Trones woods in the (Continued On Page Eight)

ONE COACH WRECKED BUT NO LIVES LOST, MAKE INVESTIGATION

Altoona, Pa., July 12.—Pennsylvania railroad detectives are investigating today what appears to have been a deliberate attempt either to destroy railroad property or to wreck trains at Bellwood, seven miles east of here, late last night and early today. Shortly before midnight while a local train from Harrisburg was passing a water station west of Bellwood station, there was a terrific explosion and an investigation revealed that a heavy charge of dynamite had been set off with a time fuse.

Later railroad detectives and signal men found eighty-six sticks of dynamite, done up in packages, containing eight to ten sticks each, with fuses attached. They were scattered over the four tracks and some of the explosive was found in a water trough between the tracks. Shortly before 6 a. m. there was a second explosion about 160 feet from the Bellwood station. Still later there was an explosion of dynamite in two passenger coaches which had been stored for the night on the Bellwood division tracks of the Pennsylvania at Bellwood. One of them was so badly damaged that it is unfit for service. An investigation showed that the dynamite in the cars had been set off evidently with time fuses.

Patrols were immediately sent out by railroad officials and all stations in the middle division were notified to be on guard. All trains east and west were held up until the tracks were cleared.

It was reported early today, but not confirmed, that the dynamite was planted by two men dressed as women with the aid of accomplices hiding beneath a culvert near where the explosions occurred.

CLEANING UP NEW YORK MAY PREVENT DISEASE

New York, July 12.—Mayor Mitchell and representative physicians of the city, including the members of the advisory board of the health department held a conference today to ascertain whether any further steps can be taken to check the epidemic of infantile paralysis. The meeting was called as the result of an increase yesterday of 100 per cent in the number of cases reported.

The mayor stated that the facilities sufficient to handle all the cases thus far reported and that there are in the hospital 400 more beds available for patients, while there is plenty of ambulances and nurses. Should the present facilities become overtaxed provision has been made to make use of the hospital at the Ellis Island immigration station.

Warnings against a panic were issued by the mayor and by the health commissioner. The latter said the fatalities from infantile paralysis had not been so great as other epidemics.

The policy of keeping the city clean the inspectors of the health department announced that they have destroyed three and a half tons of milk, lemonade and ice cream, which were either spoiled or kept in unsanitary receptacles. Fifty soda water fountains were disconnected because the owners were using unclean glasses.

ENGLAND DECLARES SUBMARINE IS NOT A MERCHANT VESSEL

(Bulletin) New York, July 12.—Despite the worst heat wave of the season the epidemic of infantile paralysis took a turn for the better today. During the twenty-four hours preceding ten o'clock this morning only seventeen deaths from the disease were reported in the five boroughs of New York City. There were 162 new cases.

SEVEN CASES IN TOLEDO Toledo, O., July 12.—Three new cases of infantile paralysis were discovered here today. There are now seven cases in the city. One of the cases discovered today has existed a month, but was not reported by a physician. In another case, which has existed three weeks, no physician was called until today. There are now seven cases in the city. The sufferers are quarantined rigidly.

IRELAND PATRIOTS RELEASED London, July 12.—The advisory committee appointed to consider the cases of men arrested in Ireland during the recent rebellion, and still under detention, has recommended the release of 460 of them.

The recommendation will be given effect immediately, Herbert L. Samuel, secretary of state for home affairs, informed the house of commons today.

Columbus, July 12.—At a meeting of the Ohio State Board of Embalmers examiners here today it was decided to hold the annual examiners' examinations at Cleveland September 19 and 20. Hertran G. Jones, of Columbus, was elected president and J. L. Arnold, of Canton, was elected secretary.

CONGRESS MAY ADJOURN BY SEPTEMBER FIRST

Washington, D. C., July 12.—Democratic and Republican senate leaders today agreed on a program that promises adjournment of congress before September first. The Republicans will oppose but will not filibuster on either the shipping or revenue legislation. The Democrats submitted and the Republicans agreed to the following program: "Appropriations bills and conference reports, the revenue, shipping and corrupt practice bills.

In a secondary list the Democrats included child labor, workmen's compensation and immigration bills, but they left for further conference.

The conferees also agreed on daily sessions from ten a. m. until 4:30 p. m. and the senate later ratified that plan.

BANDITS ROB TOLEDO STORE

Toledo, O., July 12.—Two unarmed bandits robbed Walter C. Woods' shoe store in the heart of the business district, just before noon. One of the robbers, with his hand in a bulging coat pocket, backed the two clerks against the wall and threatened to blow their heads off if they did not open the safe. The clerks did not know the combination and the robbers took $22 and a gold watch from the cash register and fled. The clerks gave an alarm and police captured both alleged robbers after a chase through the business district. They gave their names as Edward Steele, of Tulsa, Oklahoma, and Edward O'Leary, of Cincinnati. The police found they had no guns. The loot was recovered. There were no customers in the store.

STARVING POLAND TO RECEIVE HELP

Washington, July 12.—President Wilson today told a large delegation of representatives of Polish organizations that he would make personal efforts to get relief for the starving in Poland. It is understood he is considering a personal appeal to the rulers of the nations interested to allow distribution of foods. The state departments here made such an appeal to governments. The president characterized conditions in Poland as "tragic" and described the negotiations for the sending of food as being "against a stone wall."

Senator Hitchcock introduced the delegation led by John F. Smulski, of Chicago, a member of the Polish Central Relief committee, and N. L. Piotrowski, former city attorney of Chicago, who personally investigated conditions in Poland. Mr. Smulski told the president that apparently "a deliberate sentence of death has been passed against the people of Poland."

WILL ACCEPT GEN. GOETHALS RESIGNATION

Washington, D. C., July 12.—President Wilson today agreed to accept the resignation of Major General Goethals as Governor of Panama canal at an early date to be fixed by the general.

WANT MORE MEN FOR BORDER DUTY

Washington, D. C., July 12.—Immediate organization of an extensive national guard recruiting service was authorized today by the war department to bring regiments on the border duty up to full war strength of about 160,000 men. ## SOME MORE CANT

In a certain city, which, we are happy to say, we have forgotten the name of, the mayor has issued a proclamation to police that the principal duty is not to find and arrest law and ordinance violators, but to teach the evilly disposed the errors of their ways. In other words he is going to have moral suasion take the place of the swinging club.

Immediately the cackle of the upper air and solar press goes up that this is the thing. The brutal police and the brutal demeanor of the law in dealing with the derelict must go. The reason for failure in municipal government is that it has sought to rule by force and penalty rather than by mildness and precept. And the funny thing is that some people really believe that. They hold some miraculous power abides in soft words and generous words, when they are applied to a criminal that they have not with the peaceable and the colossal folly of the past and the present is that it seeks to punish rather than to reform. Fine state, indeed, we would have if we converted police into exhorters and evangelists and stood them on the corners at midday and sunset to call on the wicked to repentance to come to order and sent them during the day as evangelists to haunts of the thug and the thief to plead with him to learn the sweetness and joy of peace and honesty.

The home, the school, the church, have failed to hold in the paths of honor and right conduct, but the law, the policeman and precept can work a miracle, through waving the wand of "don't do it again; it's wrong."

Well, a good many people will chase a foolish theory round an ever widening circle and never think a sensible fact worth regarding.

A SIMPLE WAY TO HEALTH

In a letter to Robert Grimshaw, of the New York University, William Muldoon, who ranks as one of the foremost makers of physically broken down men, gives advice that it would be well for every man and woman, boy and girl in America to take to heart. He says:

I was taught in early manhood not to throw my shoulders back, stick my chest out, draw my stomach in, or hold my chin down like a goat preparing to butt, but to always try and touch some imaginary thing with the crown of my head. If one tries to do that—first understands how to try and then tries—he doesn't have to pay any attention to the rest of his physical being; that effort to touch something above him, not with his forehead, but with the crown of his head, will keep every particle of his body in the position that Nature intended it should be. And as a boy I was advised to frequently back up against the wall and make the back of my head, my shoulders, hips, heels, all press against the wall at the same time; and in that way get an idea of what was straight, or, in other words, how crooked I was becoming by drooping.

Mr. Muldoon is one of the finest specimens of physical manhood in the world. This advice he gives he incorporated in reply to a question as to his view of military training. He is heartily in favor of thorough training and drilling of every male. He thinks a wonderful amount of good would result if it were made compulsory.

Both to young and old his "hold your head up" suggestion is inspiring. Try it. The effect physically and mentally is immediate. And why shouldn't it be? When the head goes higher the impulse is to deeper breathing. A man finds more elasticity in his limbs. He steps out with more ease. There is more spring to his gait. He isn't a lumbering, shambling creature but a man alive. With the elevation of the crown of the head there seems to come clearer thinking, a more buoyant feeling and a brighter outlook.

What Mr. Muldoon terms "the effort to touch something above him" is the thing that makes all the progress of the world. Without it we would decay. If it is so with the spirit of man it certainly appears reasonable that it should be so with the body of man. At any rate it is worthy of trial when recommended by so high an authority.—From Commerce and Finance.

CARING FOR THE HORSE

We are quite busy these days in giving advice to autoists and have been apt to overlook that faithful friend of man, the horse. However, he is called to mind by the receipt of some hot weather rules for the care of horses from the Boston Work Horse Relief Association. They are good rules for horse owners to follow:

- Load lightly, and drive slowly.
- Stop in the shade if possible.
- Water your horse as often as possible. So long as a horse is working, water in small quantities will not hurt him. But let him drink only a few swallows if he is going to stand still. Do not fail to water him at night after he has eaten his hay.
- When he comes in after work, sponge off the harness marks and sweat, his eyes, his nose and mouth, and the dock. Wash his feet but not his legs.
- If the thermometer is 75 degrees or higher, wipe him all over with a damp sponge. Use vinegar water if possible. Do not turn the hose on him.
- Saturday night, give a bran mash, lukewarm; and add a tablespoonful of saltpetre.
- Do not use a horse-hat, unless it is a canopy-top hat. The ordinary bell-shaped hat does more harm than good.
- A sponge on top of the head, or even a cloth, is good if kept wet. If dry it is worse than nothing.
- If the horse is overcome by heat, get him into the shade, remove harness and bridle, wash out his mouth, sponge him all over.

Distraction

show his legs, and give him two ounces of aromatic spirits of ammonia, or two ounces of sweet spirits of nitre, in a pint of water, or, if necessary, chopped ice, wrapped in a cloth.

If the horse is off his feed, try him with two quarts of oats mixed with bran, and a little water; and add a little salt or sugar. Or give him oatmeal gruel or barley water to drink.

Watch your horse. If he stops sweating suddenly, or if he breathes short and quick, or if his ears droop, or if he stands with his legs braced sideways, he is in danger of a heat or sun stroke and needs attention at once.

If it is so hot that the horse sweats in the stable at night, tie him outside, with bedding under him. Unless he cools off during the night, he cannot well stand the next day's heat.

Ah, ha! We thought there was something back of this outcry: Swat the fly. An official fly swatter has been appointed at Redlands, California, and soon no city well regulated, but mostly otherwise, will be without one.

It is cheerful, anyway, to receive the assurance, that should the worst come there will, at least, be no embalmed beef served.

Massachusetts has sent 5,000 soldiers to the Mexican border while Texas has sent less than 2,000. Quite a difference in a way, but not so much in another. Every Texan believes he can whip twenty Mexicans, while he will admit a Yankee might lick as many as five.

England is showing, so she claims, that the year recruit can fight a bit better than the fellow trained at the business for life. That may be true and again it may not, but what about the average planter of escaping a licking in the two years?

The Republican national committee is going to distribute 1,000,000 copies of Chairman Harding's convention speech. Which merely shows the committee hopes the speech will read a good deal better than it sounded.

Everyday Wisdom

By DON HEROLD

That most fascinating of all land foods, corn on the cob, is again with us, and society is all agog. Corn on the cob always creates a sensation. It is known well enough that it is no business to appear in polite society, yet each year it intrudes itself into the best dining rooms and the most exclusive cafes. Corn on the cob is not wicked—it does not have its appeal on its wickedness. Let us see, then, on what it does base its appeal. Corn is essentially a barn food. When it appears in a dining room it always causes a certain amount of embarrassment. People look at each other to see how the intruder is to be welcomed. And finally—invariably—it is always accepted fully and unreservedly as a regular dining room food—and people eat it. We should say that the chief charm of corn on the cob is its audacity. It is like some of the characters we recall in Bernard Shaw and Oscar Wilde plays. It butts in where it has no business, and society cannot resist it.

What sight is sweeter than a beautiful, blushing debutante, glowing at a cob full of corn? It is almost as if you had caught her out wading. She does not know what to do with her eyes; she cannot look at the corn and eat it too. There is nowhere that a debutante may flirt more effectively than from behind a cob full of corn. Every debutante could eat a lot of corn. Oh, it is delicious to eat corn from a cob! It may be deplorable—but, thank goodness, the old Puritan days are past!

Billy Surprises Chirpy Sparrow

"Come here! Come here! Come here!" called Chirpy Sparrow to his little mate.

But she paid no attention to him. She went right along with her toilet. For she was a neat, proper little sparrow and she wasn't pleased with the set of her feathers and she meant to arrange them better before she stopped.

"Come here! Come here! Come here!" repeated Chirpy, and he said it exactly as if he meant what he said.

"Yes?" answered Mrs. Chirpy, and she gave herself a soft little shake, quite as though she was saying to herself, "I wonder how those feathers are now?"

"Come here! Come here! Come here!" shouted Chirpy, now really cross. "When I see something I want you to see and call you to see it, you should come!"

"Now, Chirpy, don't get excited," laughed Mrs. Chirpy, pleasantly. "You wouldn't like me very well if I wasn't chirpy, and I assure you my feathers were a sight! What was it you wanted me to see? I'm sure it's something interesting." And she hopped down by Chirpy and began looking around.

That restored Chirpy's good humor at once (as Mrs. Chirpy knew quite well that it would), and he told her to follow him if she wanted to see something funny.

They hopped and skipped over to the front yard, and what do you suppose they saw there? Mrs. Chirpy saw it even before Chirpy had time to tell her where to look, and she began to laugh. They saw Billy Robin standing on his head trying to get a worm! Think of that!

Maybe he wasn't really truly standing on his head—that but he looked as though he was and that was surely funny enough to laugh at. Wouldn't you think so? He dug his strong bill down into the ground and twisted his claws in the air and how he did wiggle and squirm!

Wanderlust

The joy to roam, the joy to roam,
The thrill to wander free,
When waters break in shining foam,
And green is every tree,
And the road is like a ribbon laid
As far as eye can see!

But love, alas! dwells not in tents
Beside the highways long,
And duty keeps her dwelling house
Where countless labors throng,
In places where too faintly comes
The lark's infrequent song!

And who would love and duty change
For alien sea and skies,
Who fears not age where no friends
Are,

Nor woman's tender eyes,
Now when the year is green and young,
'Fore God, let him arise!

But he shall long to change at last
The mosques of Samarcand,
The Himalayan awful crest,
The Ganges' haunted land,
And the sights of the whole wide
world, methinks,
For the touch of a friendly hand!

Talented

"People should never gossip,"
"No," replied Miss Cayenne, "and yet everybody wants to be a little bit entertaining. And so many of us can't sing or recite."—Washington Star.

Exchanging Favors

Father-in-law—Look here, young man, don't you think it's about time you were going to work, or do you expect me to support you the rest of your life?

Son-in-law—"It would be no more than fair, just after what I have done for you."

"I'd like to know what you've ever done for me."
"Why didn't I take your daughter off your hands?"

All In the Day's Work

In a town in Maryland, one Bill Morton appeared before the postmaster one morning, and the following colloquy occurred:

"Morning, Mr. Postmaster."
"Morning, Bill."

"Has Tom Moore been in for his mail yet?"

"No."

"Will you be here when he comes?"

"I guess so."

"Well, when he comes in will you tell him that on his way from the telegraph factory I wish he'd stop and get that pig of Herman Stutz and take it down to Henry Parker's and tell Henry I said he could have it for that single harness even up if he'll fix that bridge and throw in them rusted lines instead of the old black ones; and if he won't trade, tell Tom to bring the pig down to my place and put it in the extra pen, and be sure and shut that door to the henhouse, or all the chickens'll get out. Sure there ain't no mail?"

"Morning, Mr. Postmaster."

"Morning, Bill!"—New York Times.

The English Language

The employer of a Polish girl who has learned quickly to speak English tells of her attempted mastery of the telephone. After its use was explained to her she was eager to answer every call. A ring came and she jumped to the telephone.

"Hello!" came from the receiver.

"Hello!" answered the girl, flushed with pride at being able to give the proper answer.

"I don't know," exclaimed the maid. "I can't see you."

There's A Difference

Louise—"I consider myself vastly her social superior."

Cholly—"What make car does she use?"

Louise—"The same as mine—a street car—but she travels in the rush hours."

What's The Answer

The woman had decided to run for office and was about to cast her lot into the ring.

But here a delicate question arose. "Will a very stylish hat make votes or alienate them?"

And that was a question that no mere man could answer.—Louisville Courier Journal.

Abas the Scientists

Now kissing's unhealthy. It breeds the dread mite. Who chews up the wealthy And poor just alike.

The scientist say it. So it must be true. Although we will pray It won't hurt me and you. Scores may turn up missing (Pray pardon the tears). For folks won't stop kissing In nine billion years.

Ray K. Moulton in Akron Beacon Journal.

Seven Diamonds Set As One

A New Era in diamond setting. Probably the greatest value of the day in diamond jewelry is the cluster formed.

Only diamond surfaces are exposed and the effect is simply wonderful.

These clusters are mounted in Tiffany rings, pearl pins, pendants, earrings, etc., of most artistic designs and possess all the brilliancy and beauty of solitaires resting from five to ten times their price. Think of it—a genuine Tiffany Diamond ring with a setting of the size, appearance and magnificence of a $800 solitaire for only $60. And other sizes at proportionate prices.

See window display—our easy payment plan is for your convenience.

THE MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCKS

New York, July 12.—Professionals were again in control of today's market, directing their efforts against the more vulnerable specialties. Investment stocks were steady to firm.

Pressure upon special stocks was renewed at the opening of today's market with few offsetting gains. Dealings were contracts, however, some of the high grade issues being quoted in the first half hour's trading. Shipping shares were again singled out for liquidation, United Fruit soon losing 4 1/2 points, with almost three for Atlantic, Gulf and West Indies. Automobile issues also suffered further depreciation, General Motors losing five with moderate reversals for Studebaker, Willys-Overland and Maxwell.

General Chemical advanced three points on yesterday's loss of six and Mexicans were heavy with metals and Beet Sugar.

The first hours' selling was strongly suggestive of a series of a bear drive especially in Marine Preferred, United States Steel and Crucible Steel, all meeting more than full recovery on the general rebound. Other specialties improved under relaxed pressure, which was accompanied by considerable short covering. Rails, like Union Pacific, New York Central and Erie were in better demand and coppers manifested an improved tendency, especially Anaconda and Kennecott. Mexicans and Motors made headway with the general list. Heavy trading in Anglo-French five's was again the distinguishing feature of the lower bond market.

Alcohol—Extreme decline of 14 points to 99 1/2 provoked some settlement in the later dealings. The closing was irregular.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Mabel A. Coriell Burke. Pathetic circumstances surround the very sudden death of Mrs. Mabel A. Coriell-Burke, aged 33 years, wife of Will W. Burke, an N. & W. car repairer, at their home, 2122 Seventh street, Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Left motherless by the sudden passing away of Mrs. Coriell are a two weeks old baby daughter and a two year old son, William Lawson Burke.

Mrs. Coriell seemed to have fully recovered from the effects of child birth save that her heart was weak. She had been up and about but upon the advice of the family physician, Dr. O. J. Micklethwait was advised to lie down and remain quiet, after she had called him up Tuesday and said she was short of breath. She called him up again a half hour or forty-five minutes before she died saying she was feeling fine but hungry and wanted to know what she could eat. It seemed that a few minutes after she had called she raised up on her elbow and began feeling bad. A call was sent in for Dr. Micklethwait but he was absent from home. Another physician was then summoned. He found the young woman rapidly and completely turning blue. A hurry call was sent in for the city pulmotor but she had expired before city firemen could reach the home with the life saving device. An examination developed the fact that a blood clot had formed on her heart, causing death.

Mrs. Burke was a daughter of the late well known former Portsmouth jeweler, Ed Coriell, who died early this year. She was married five years ago to Mr. Burke and three children were born to them. The first child, Walter Edward, is deceased. She is also survived by her widowed mother, Mrs. Anna M. Coriell, of Geophart's Station and four brothers, Walter and Otto Y. Coriell, of this city, Edward E. Coriell, of Bowling Green, and Charles Coriell, of Cincinnati. She was a member of First Baptist church.

The funeral will take place from the home probably Thursday afternoon. Rev. B. F. Caudill will conduct the services. Burial will be in Greenlawn cemetery.

Sleeps In Greenlawn

Distressing and dangerous complications may follow if you neglect a cough. Even when so serious a stage is reached, Eckman's Alternative may bring relief. For more than twenty years it has been wisely used in such cases with beneficial results.

As with any medication employed in this trouble, the best results are obtained when the patient pays strict attention to diet and gets plenty of rest and fresh air. Because of its easily assimilable content of calcium chlorid, its operation is effective where a trade builder is indicated. As a corrective of night sweats it has proved most useful. # Mr. Hacquard Says He Did Not Resign Because He Could Not Control Temper

When asked Wednesday about a rumor that he had resigned his office following a fight in which he was alleged to have said: "A man that cannot control his temper any better than I have, had better resign," Eugene E. Hacquard, former mayor of Sciotoville, who recently resigned so that he might have more time to devote to his business interests, strenuously denied every detail of the story. He said that there were many people in Sciotoville and vicinity who were opposed to the incorporation of the village and had been doing everything they possibly could to discourage those who held office. "Why the story is silly," said Mr. Hacquard with a smile. "That is a new one to me."

The story going the rounds on the streets is to the effect that Mr. Hacquard had a young man before him just the night before his resignation was made public, for speeding. And, so the story goes, Mr. Hacquard was lecturing the young man and the fellow took exception and made a sharp return, for which he received a heavy blow from Mr. Hacquard, which knocked him down. Following this, it is claimed that Mr. Hacquard resigned, saying that if a man could not control his temper any better than that he had better resign.

Mr. Hacquard said that he supposed the story had its origin in an incident that took place on the Fourth of July, when he was deputized by "Squire James Basham" to guard an unruly prisoner. "They had brought several prisoners down from Piquette's grove and the man who was arrested on a charge of carrying concealed weapons began to abuse everyone about. The officers had returned to the grove for another bunch of prisoners, and the 'Squire deputized me to guard him,' said Mr. Hacquard. "Well he had smushed a foreigner in the face, and I just grabbed him and set him down in a chair and told him he had better stay there. He did."

"This is the only incident. I can recall that could have started such an absurd report."

Rudolph Mack, G. O. P. Candidate For Governor, Is Making Canvass

PROMISES IN PLATFORM

"I will clean up Cincinnati." That is one of the things R. A. Mack, candidate for Republican nomination for governor of Ohio promises to do if the voters of Ohio return him a winner at the primaries in August and then at the polls in November.

Mr. Mack realizes that he has a laborious task on his hands, but he is going about his work in a systematic and enthusiastic manner. He has just made a swing through southern Ohio and feels greatly encouraged. He says he has found a strong sentiment in this section in favor of his candidacy and while in the city Wednesday promoting his extensive campaign he smiled expansively in discussing the manner in which it is moving along.

Mr. Mack is a big man mentally as well as physically and is confident of victory at the polls in August and ultimately in November. Circulars he is distributing give his "platform" as follows:

"As attorney in Hamilton county for the Anti-Saloon league and campaign manager for the Dry Amendment league of that county, I constantly came in contact with the immoral working alliance between the Willis administration and the worst element in Hamilton county."

"This same condition of playing vicious politics with the people's trust, I find is state-wide in the administration affairs of Ohio."

"Ohio deserves an administration that will deal squarely with the people, and not under cover with the gangs.

"I propose, with the help of the decent voters, to give Ohio such an administration."

"I accept and advocate the Republican National and State platforms, and I earnestly believe in the following principles, which I will use my fullest efforts to bring about in the shortest possible time."

"I will clean up Cincinnati."

"Governor Willis personally killed the bill for free school books. I will work faithfully that free school books may be supplied."

"That the unholy alliance between politicians and the liquor power may no longer control our government, and that dealings based on such power shall cease—I am for a dry state now and always."

"I believe in advanced legislation for good roads, schools, workman, widow and old age pensions and other humanitarian principles that will make our state a better place to live."

"All these will come about easily and naturally by the direction of the voter when we have equal suffrage and no suborns."

Had Not Bathed Or Combed Hair In Ten Years, Sent To Athens

An affidavit charging Emma Watts, colored, 1122 Findlay street with lunacy was filed in probate court Wednesday by Probation Officer Harry Ball.

According to the officials the woman has not combed her hair nor taken a bath for over ten years.

Judge Thomas C. Beatty stated Wednesday that she was sent to the Athens State Hospital in 1898 and was later released on trial.

Drs. E. W. Hubert and J. T. Brodnac went to the Watts home Wednesday and conducted an examination of the woman. She claimed that her head was a planet and that it was moving most all of the time.

An examination of the head showed, the physicians say, that it was covered with vermin. A barber was sent for and the hair was clipped off and the head shaved. She was adjudged insane and will be taken to the Athens State Hospital some time this week.

Girl Wife Complains Of Her Mother-In-Law

Mrs. Nellie Hensley called at police headquarters Wednesday to invoke the law upon her mother-in-law, Mrs. Mattie Nunley, of Eighth and Broadway streets. It appears that the complainant is only 15 years of age and although a court required Mrs. Nunley's son to marry her the young couple never lived together. Mrs. Hensley has been supporting herself by working at the Mitchell Manufacturing company's plant but claims that Mrs. Nunley's action in going to the plant and telling that she was only fifteen years old caused her to lose her position. The child wife's original home is in Ironton. Chief Clark promised to talk to Mrs. Nunley and advise her to cease interfering with the young daughter-in-law.

SKIN

DANGEROUS

When you see a person with clear skin, flushed only with the color of perfect health, you will also notice that the skin is soft, smooth and free from blemishes. There are no pimples, spots, blotches, humors. It will be true of the face and true of the body. It is a true indication of rich, red blood coursing through the arteries. It means that the blood is full of red corpuscles. It would throw off a minor ailment like a flash, and even a stubborn disease would hardly prove fatal or lastingly disable such a person. For the same reason that healthy, clear skin is an indication of pure, clean blood, blotchy and bumpy skin is an indication of a diseased condition of the blood.

In proper eating and drinking, or vicious habits, or unwise treatment of personal infections, deteriorate the blood. This effects matter as poisons and the circulation carries these poisons to the various tissues, especially the skin. Then the blood begins to throw off the humors and acids through the pores and glands of the skin, producing Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Psoriasis, Salt Rheum and skin eruptions of various kinds.

Eczema appears, usually with a slight redness of the skin, followed by pustules from which there flows a fluid that dries and forms crusts, and the itching is intense. It is generally on the back, breast, face, arms and legs. In tetter, the skin dries, cracks and bleeds; the acid in the blood dries up the natural oil of the skin, causing a dry, scaly condition. Acne makes its appearance on the face in the form of pimples and blackheads, while Psoriasis comes in scaly patches on different parts of the body. A very common form of Skin Disease also is Salt Rheum.

The best way to handle skin diseases is to purify the blood with S. S. S. and thus enable it to do its work properly. S. S. S. removes these humors from the blood so that the skin, instead of being irritated and diseased, is nourished by a supply of fresh, healthy blood. External applications of salves, washes, lotions, etc., while they may soothe the itching caused by the skin affections cannot cure the trouble because they do not reach the blood.

S. S. S. goes down into the circulation and forces out the foreign matter and restores the blood to its normal, pure condition, enabling the body to relieve the skin affection. S. S. S. is for sale at all first-class drug stores. Don't take a substitute. Book on skin diseases and Medical Advice if desired, sent free to all who write. ## SOCIETY

Miss Sue Sprouse gave a beautiful towel shower at her home on Twelfth street last evening, honoring Miss Kathryn Mault, whose engagement to Mr. Charles Lawill was announced a few days ago. The color scheme used throughout the party was green and white. The beautiful gifts were presented to the bride-to-be by the hostess's little niece, Lucy Daum, and Mary Emmett, in a pretty green and white trimmed wagon. Victrola music was a feature of the evening. The guests present were Misses Kathryn Mault, Sadie Farmer, Virginia Cryer, Columbin Glochner, Gertrude Bender, Lucile Goodman, Wilda Bowser, Hattie McAllister, Rose and Louise Emmett, Alma Smith, Ellen Sprouse, Mrs. Mary Smith, Mrs. Nell Clemens, Mrs. Ely Daum and Mrs. Louise Sprouse. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by her sister, Miss Ellen Sprouse, and her cousin, Mrs. Nell Clemens. The souvenirs were dainty green and white baskets filled with candy hearts. Many other flowers and parties are being planned in Miss Mault's honor. The wedding will take place some time in August. Miss Mault has been employed for a number of years in the Anderson Brothers' store and has made a large circle of friends by her sweet and pleasant ways. ## Colts Have Retained Their Classy Players; Huntington Loses Out

PORTSMOUTH. LEXINGTON. MAYSVILLE. CHILLICOTHE.

These are the cities that will make up the Ohio State league circuit for the second half, which opens Thursday with Portsmouth in Lexington and Maysville in Chillicothe.

The Lexington fans completed arrangements yesterday to retain their classy team and as a result Huntington will not be in the Carr organization during the second half. All arrangements had been made to transfer the Colts bodily to Huntington with the exception of securing the consent of the fans of that city. They reneged on the deal and after $2,500 was raised the Colts remained in good old Lexington.

Portsmouth, Maysville, Chillicothe and Lexington will make up a strong circuit and there is no doubt but what more interest will be shown in the second half games than there were in the first.

Maysville has practically revamped its team and the Babes will get the pick of the Huntington, Charleston and Frankfort players, a high class ball team to be mobilized for Chillicothe, which is expected to stage a real come back in the baseball world.

President Joe Carr has been in Babes town several days and all arrangements have been made for that city's re-entry into the classic precincts of the Ohio State. All games will be played in the same park in Babetown and the fun will fly when the Babes and Champs hook up.

The second half schedule is being shaped by President Carr.

Forfeit Money Raised In Chilly

Chillicothe, July 12.—Chillicothe will get its first peep at the new Babe club today. The team will report here Wednesday, be fitted out with suits and under Manager Watt Powell, will go through a short workout at League Park in the afternoon.

By the time the team reports enough subscriptions will have been collected from Chillicothe merchants and business men, the committee says, to post the $300 forfeit. In two hours Monday afternoon the committee collected $200 and in about 45 minutes Monday evening another $100 was secured.

With the forfeit money on hand the committee will then give its entire attention to boosting the opener. Boosters' tickets for the big lifting exercises at League Park Thursday afternoon will be on the streets not later than Wednesday morning. They may be secured either from Secretary Robert Gunning at Hange and Gunning or from Deputy Sheriff George Hamm.

Maysville will be the attraction, and "Muck" McGraw, old time Babe, will pitch for the Kentucky invaders. A number of merchants have consented to closing their stores for the afternoon. Attempts will be made to secure a band for the occasion.

The committee in charge will meet here with League President Joe Carr and Manager Watt Powell to decide upon the offer which the Pittsburgh Nationals have made for the two Babe pitchers, Coffindaffer and Carpenter. If Pittsburgh will take the two twirlers on trial and send two to fill their places here it is possible that the deal will go through.

NEWS PLEASES THE FANS

News that the second half of the Ohio State league season is to open Thursday with the Babes back in the fold will be hailed with delight in local fandom.

"This is one of the best moves the league could make," President Gableman stated last night when he received official word from President Carr that the Babes had secured a franchise and that Lexington had retained its team.

BATTED 22 INNINGS TO A TIE

Rock Island, Ill., July 12.—Hannibal and Rock Island have set a season's record for long games. Yesterday the two clubs battled 22 innings. Hannibal winning in the final inning 8 to 3. The game lacked two innings of tying the American record.

Neale Is Real Star

Greasy Neale of the Reds has developed into one of the best outfielders in the game. Down in Cincinnati many bugs declare he is a much better fielder than the redoubtable Benny Knutt and that in a year Neale will be better in all departments than Knutt.

Watch Indians And Yankees

"Have the Boston Braves or the Boston Red Sox got the best pitching staff in baseball?" is a query that bubbles out of the day's mail.

We are beginning to believe that Bill Donovan has a better staff than either. The work of Caldwell, Shawkey, Cutler, Moegridge, Keating and Fisher has undoubtedly been the best of the year. Beyond any question the Yankees have gotten the best pitching in baseball so far. Here a day or two ago they scored exactly two runs in 20 innings and yet won two games.

Caldwell is now in top form, and with Bob Shawkey working at such speed no club can show two greater right handers in the rifle pit. And if there is a better left-hander than Nick Cutler we haven't yet seen him at work. The Yanks haven't been hitting the ball with any great robustness, but they have been literally pitched into first place.

If baseball is ever decided by a direct primary we are going before the pop-eyed families and insist upon a platform that will bring Cincinnati and Cleveland together in a world series. In the first place they have one coming. In the second place, we yearn for

FRANCHISES FORFEITED

Auburn, N. Y., July 12.—Secretary J. F. Farrell, of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues announced last night that the franchises of the Frankfort, Ky., Charleston, W. Va., and Huntington, W. Va. teams had been forfeited to the Ohio State league.

Champs Play Lexington, Then Hike To Babetown

The Champs after playing in Lexington will go to Chillicothe to play their first game there since Chilly dropped out of the league last year when Manager Josh Devore resigned and went to Maysville, where he won a pennant for the Cubs.

Portsmouth-Chillicothe games are always full of excitement and no doubt when the Babes play here as well as when the Champs are in Paint Street, large crowds will turn out.

Will Build New Park

Charleston will not be long without baseball. It is rumored that a new park will be built almost in the heart of that city next spring by the business men of that town and Charleston will come back into the Ohio State. Manager Spencer stated last night that Charleston is one of the best minor league towns in the country.

GOOSTREE IS SOLD

Third Baseman Edward Goostree, a former member of the of the Portsmouth team has been sold to the Grand Rapids team by Rockymount, N. C. Goostree had been a member of this club for two years. He is a fair hitter and a rattling good infielder.

HEINE GROH INJURED

Heine Groh, star infielder of the Reds, dislocated a finger yesterday while practicing and will be out of the game several days. Louden has replaced him at second base.

Real Star At 3rd Base

Buck Herzog has played some good ball at short for the Reds this year, but the fighting rearing has done his best work since he shifted himself over to third base in the Brooklyn series.

Herzog made his reputation as a big leaguer as a third baseman and the way he is playing the difficult corner these days is a treat.

His fielding cannot be improved upon.

To Prohibit Auto Driving

In this age of progress something new is almost certain to develop in the way of baseball contracts. Already it is seriously urged by some magnates that a contract be used next year that will prohibit auto driving between April 10 and October 15.

HERZOG WILL GO

Cincinnati, July 12.—Manager Herzog has broken his silence regarding the multitude of rumors of trades in which he was to be a party.

Heretofore he has declined to discuss the stories, merely reiterating his confidence in the team he has gathered. Today he said:

"Well, I guess I am booked for a transfer. What I don't know, however, is where I go. I know that Boston, Brooklyn, Chicago and Philadelphia have made propositions for me, but I don't know which club, if any, is to have me. If it has to be so, I'm sorry I've done my best and tried hard anyway."

Myron T. Herrick, A True Friend Of The Workingman

The Union Reporter, official organ of Canton, Alliance, Massillon, Salem and Tuscarawas county Labor Unions, prints this declaration for Myron T. Herrick for United States Senator.

MYRON T. HERRICK

Candidate for United States senator, subject to the decision of the Republican primaries, August 8, 1916

"During the entire career of Myron T. Herrick—in business or politics—he has always expressed himself very frankly and there was never a time when the gentleman has gone back on his stated opinion or promises.

"When, therefore, the governor has plainly expressed himself lately on questions regarding labor we can not but assume—yes, be convinced—that he will not change his mind on these matters in case he should be elected to the office he is now seeking—United States Senator.

"Our interests being so strongly for labor and for the full recognition of labor in matters of wages and conditions we feel that we would do injustice to the cause we represent, if we were to remain passive.

"Mr. Herrick, in giving his views on labor questions, stated that 'government, capital and labor must in understanding work in harmony if we are to fulfill our destiny as democracy'; that 'social legislation must be advanced in the interest of the men and women who bear the physical toil of the nation.'

"He also believes that 'all classes of citizens must co-operate in a spirit of patriotism and subordination of self-interest for a friendly settlement of internal differences.'

"We have always maintained that any and all differences between labor and capital could easily be settled in a friendly spirit—if employers were less selfish and more and more willing to listen to the just demands of the toilers.

"And since Myron T. Herrick has shown that he is well aware of the means to give labor its due and that he is ready to stand on the 'labor platform,' as above stated, it is the plain duty of every laboring man, who has the interest of the masses at heart, to give Mr. Herrick his support, in order that we shall have a representative in the United States Senate who will see to it that the toilers' claims for recognition shall receive the consideration due and in that manner eliminate the continuous strifes which are always the greatest obstacles to this country's success."

USING UP VITALITY

The struggle for success uses up vitality in America at a greater rate than any other thing. Fighting to keep away from the poor-house we shorten the distance to the grave.

Especially in middle age, at forty or thereabouts, do we become impressed with the necessity of laying up a competence and with that feeling in time comes worry, nervous breakdown, neurasthenia. The entire system feels the result of the nervous strain. The digestion resists things that it accepted before, the heart palpitates on slight exertion, the muscles of the back ache after a day's work. Your blood is thinner and not so bright a red.

When these things occur, whether you are fourteen or forty, you need a tonic. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills suit most people's need because they are non-alcoholic and they really build up the blood and strengthen the nerves. They are useful for growing children and for men and women whose nervous energy has been overtaxed.

Your druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 30 cents per box, six boxes $2.00 by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Write today for free booklet on the blood and nerves.

"Runaway" Prisoner Sent To Workhouse, Singer Before Mayor

"Push" Wheeler, of South Portsmouth, who the last time he was on the city prison work gang escaped within thirty minutes after he became one of the crew, paid the penalty Wednesday.

Mayor Kaps at the time promised Wheeler that if he ran away he would be sent to the Cincinnati workhouse at the first opportunity. This came Wednesday when he was arraigned on a vagrancy charge. He was also thought to have been mixed up in the attack on the Columbus and Chillicothe streets the night of July 4th. The mayor fined him $25 and costs and sentenced him to 30 days in the Cincinnati institution.

Wheeler's companions, "Beans" Evans and Earl Whitt, denied that they had any part in the fight, but the mayor told them he had information how they had been loitering about and feasting upon other people's chickens in a camp near the old distillery building and fined them $1 each for disorderly conduct.

Half of a $10 fine given Lawrence "Cotton" Cole was suspended by the mayor out of appreciation of the way he had been deporting himself of late, and he was advised to keep away from such fellows as Hous Windel in the future. The two had been arrested for quarreling on the streets. Windel was fined $10, and instructions were given not to allow him the freedom of the jail premises when he was not working.

Fred "Cush" Taylor, who was arrested for singing on the streets at midnight of July 1st and had never received a hearing, was also shown lenience by the court, he suspending action with the advice to him to keep out of trouble in the future.

GERMAN 'SUB' IN ENGLISH PORT

London, July 12.—The English port of Seaham Harbour was attacked last night by a German submarine. About thirty rounds of shrapnel were fired.

One woman was killed by the bombardment. One house was struck by a shell.

London, July 12.—The official announcement says: At 10:30 o'clock last night a German submarine appeared off the small undefended port of Seaham Harbour (on the North Sea, 6 miles southeast of Sunderland and a coal shipping port.)

It approached within a few hundred yards of the town and then opened fire. Some thirty rounds of shrapnel were fired from a 3-inch gun. Twenty rounds fell in the direction of Daltondale; a dozen rounds fell in and around Seaham colliery.

A woman walking through the colliery yard was seriously injured and died this morning. One house was struck by a shell. No other damage was done.

REPORTED PINKS ABOUT TO FALL

London, July 12.—Special dispatches from Petrograd reflect the feeling that Pinks is likely soon to fall before General Brusiloff's advances.

The Daily News' Petrograd correspondent says: "The situation at Pinsk is extremely complicated for the Germans. Pinsk now is the extreme point of the German promontory running into Russian territory. Owing to the wide sweep of the Russian advance from the Lutsk salient in the past few days, any attempt by the Germans to hold up the Russians by an attack on the flank now must be made north of the Pinsk marshes. If the Germans are unable to gather forces for this move, or regain the ground lost south of Pinsk, they are likely to find the whole Pinsk district isolated by Russian raids through the marshes—a species of warfare in which the Russians excel."

The Post's Petrograd correspondent says: "We now are rapidly approaching the moment when General Brusiloff, having cleared the Pinsk marshes region, begins directly to threaten the right flank of the German position generally."

Quarterly Mass Meeting Of C. E. Societies Held Tuesday Night, Delegates Make Reports

With about seventy-five in attendance, the quarterly mass meeting of the County Christian Endeavor Union was held in the Sunday School room of the First Presbyterian church Tuesday evening with the members showing much enthusiasm in their work. Christian Endeavor Societies from different parts of the county were well represented.

All local Christian Endeavors, First, Second and Central Presbyterian, First and Grandview Avenue Christian churches, had large delegations present.

The meeting opened at 7:30, Harry Smith, county president, acting as chairman. Lloyd Craden of the First Christian church, took charge of the song and praise service. Several numbers were rendered by the congregation followed by prayer by Rev. George P. Horst, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church. Mr. Smith gave the scripture reading. During the song service Miss Emma Dellert presided at the piano. The banner received by the Scioto County C. E. U. at the State C. E. convention, was displayed.

The business session proved quite interesting. Everett Drev, treasurer, gave his report. Mr. Craden read the resolutions adopted at the first annual county C. E. convention recently held at the Second Presbyterian church.

The resolutions declared the convention a spiritual and practical success due largely to the efficient work of the county convention committee. The resolutions expressed thanks and sincere appreciation for the efforts of the committee, the generosity of the local churches, work of county officers and expressed gratitude to the convention speakers and singers, to the publicity committee and the Daily Times. Lloyd Craden, Orin B. Catlin, Ella M. Cook, Della Fillmore and Bertha Wilhelm formed the resolution committee.

Reports were then heard from a delegate from each local Christian Endeavor who attended the State C. E. convention held recently in Springfield.

Miss Emma Dellert of the First Presbyterian church, gave a report of the music and missionary talks. Miss Dellert said the musical part of the convention was given a great swing on the arrival of Mr. Rodeheaver from the "Billy" Sunday party. He said: "Your C. E. songs should be more effective. Songs are as important as prayer. Don't sing too many of the old songs. Strike a happy medium between the two. The songs should carry interest and the message of the meeting. Have a good leader in your singing. Have a music committee and have the leader work with the committee. Meetings are killed in a great many instances by inappropriate songs." She also dwelt some time on the missionary department work.

Miss Tena Cook of the Central Presbyterian church gave a report on the Tenth Legion and Quiet Hour divisions. "Much time was given to talks on observance on the quiet hour. Each C. E. member should give 15 minutes each morning to the study of the bible, this being the quiet hour work. Our minds are fresh and clear in the morning. Have a set time to observe the quiet hour. One third of all Christian Endeavorers are comrades of the Quiet Hour." On discussing the Tenth Legion work Miss Cook said: "Give cheerfully, if we pay right we will pray right." "The United States would not now be spending so much money to prepare for war with Mexico if she would have spent the money in evangelizing the country. She is spending more to capture one man than was ever spent for evangelism for Mexico."

Wesley Ridenour of the Second Presbyterian church gave a report on the publicity work. "The publicity department consisted mainly of exhibits of ideas, many posters and newspaper clippings being on display. All counties except Scioto had a display. We will do better next time. One of the best advertising points for C. E. work is the wearing of a C. E. pin or button."

Lloyd Craden gave a report on the Junior and Intermediate work. He told of how the two have been separated and placed under different superintendents. "These divisions of the C. E. work are becoming more and more popular." He spoke of the importance of Junior work and told how the young children at 12 and 13 years of age remember things better at this age. "Instill the C. E. work in the child. From 14 to 18 is the decision age. This is the time for intermediate work."

Conferences of different committees postponed at the county convention were then held. The meeting closed with the social committee of the First Presbyterian C. E.

Evangelical Society Planning To Install Fountain, May Form Choir

One of the best meetings in the history of the German Evangelical Brotherhood was held Tuesday evening.

A committee composed of George Kah, Edward Yeager and Will Blankenbeyer was named to meet with the building committee of the church and arrange for the installation of a drinking fountain in the Sunday school. The members saw a fountain in St. John's church, Columbus, and have decided that one should be installed in the local church. Plans were also discussed for the forming of a vested choir. The younger members of the Brotherhood will take up the matter with the present choir.

"WEDGE" GAME WAS WORKED ON FOREIGNER

Louis Furguele, who conducts a fruit stand on Waller street, near Tenth, was the victim of a "wedge" game and had his till tapped by strange negroes late Tuesday afternoon.

After one purchased a package of peanuts, another called for some pop and while the foreigner was bent over getting the bottle out of an ice box one negro pushed the other against him and struck him twice on the head, then reached over and grabbed $1.25 in change from a cigar box. They then bolted from the place with Furguele in pursuit.

J. S. Taylor, a colored employee of Contractor Robert Gray, recognized "Bubber" Martin, whom Furguele pointed out as one of the men, as the same who a few minutes before had followed him about the waiting room of the N. & W. depot and after sitting down alongside him placed his hands in his coat pocket. Taylor had suspected the fellow and after purchasing seven railroad tickets to Waverly noticed he had seen him place his roll, amounting to $33.45, in his pocket, so he promptly switched the money to his hip pocket. This precaution is all that saved him from being robbed, he said.

Martin and two chance acquaintances, Jesse Dixon and Jack Davis, also Southern negroes, were arrested. The latter two were dismissed in police court Wednesday for want of evidence while Martin was fined $25 and costs and sentenced to 30 days in the workhouse. The negro who got the money made his escape.

Her Health Restored by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Indianapolis, Indiana. — "My health was so poor and my constitution so run down that I could not work. I was thin, pale and weak, weighed but 109 pounds and was in bed most of the time. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and five months later I weighed 133 pounds. I do all the housework and washing for eleven and I can truthfully say Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been a godsend to me for I would have been in my grave today but for it. I would tell all women suffering as I was to try your valuable remedy." — Mrs. Wm. Green, 332 S. Addison Street, Indianapolis, Indiana.

There is hardly a neighborhood in this country, wherein some woman has not found health by using this good old-fashioned root and herb remedy. If there is anything about which you would like special advice, write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

CANTATA TO BE SUCCESS

The cantata to be given by the large chorus at the First Christian church Friday evening of this week, promises to be one of the musical treats of the season. The choir will meet both tonight and Thursday night for rehearsal and every member who expects to take part in the cantata is kindly asked to be present. Practice tonight immediately at the close of prayer meeting, which will close promptly at 8:30 o'clock. The program for the cantata will probably appear in Thursday's Times.

Army Departments In Congressional Districts Will Likely Be Established

Washington, D. C., July 12.—A proposal that an army quarter-master department be established in each congressional district to hasten equipment of national guard troops called into federal service in an emergency, probably will grow out of the mobilization of state forces for duty on the Mexican border.

Delay in supplying the men with clothing and camp equipment said Brigadier General Sharpe, acting head of the quarter-master department, today, is due to the depot situation, and not to a shortage.

General Sharpe has sought far years to have a depot ware house system established. It is now necessary to send mobilization supplies from Philadelphia, St.

The Perfect Corn Flakes

New Post Toasties are not only inexpensive but they bear a new deliciousness, produced by a new process of cookery—the first to produce corn flakes with the self-developed true corn flavor.

So fine is this flavor that New Post Toasties are wondrous good eaten dry. Unlike common corn flakes, they do not require cream and sugar to make them palatable. Try some that way—you'll appreciate the point, though they're even better when served with cream or good milk.

These New Post Toasties don't mush down in cream, and they are not "chaffy" in the package, like common flakes. They're new in form, new in flavor, and new in appearance. Note the tiny bubbles on each flake—an identifying feature.

Put up in wax-sealed packages, New Post Toasties retain their oven-crispness and flavor until served at your table.

Have your grocer deliver a package for tomorrow's breakfast.

GERMANS POUR HAIL OF SHELL ON BATTERED VERDUN

TEUTONS GAIN IN FIGHT. WHOLE COLUMN MELTS WHEN FRENCH GOT BUSY

(BULLETIN)

London, July 12.—The Germans, heavily reinforced, delivered strong attacks against the British on the Somme front last night. They gained ground in Mametz wood and Trones wood.

(Bulletin)

Paris, July 12.—The Germans delivered three attacks last night on a French position in the neighborhood of Dead Man Hill on the Verdun front. The war office announcement of today says that these assaults failed, breaking down under French fire. East of the Meuse the French retook part of the ground won yesterday by the Germans.

Paris, Wednesday, July 12.—All through the battle in Picardy, which has been raging for ten days is absorbing most of the attention of the German command, they were able today to re-trieve the struggle at Verdun, making some advance there and delivering several sharp local attacks in the Lorraine and Vosges sections, probably to conceal the transfer of troops to the Somme region.

Haring maintained their grip of the Thiaumont work but failed to debouch therefrom, the Germans now are trying to push forward their left flank. Their artillery was busy all day yesterday, all night and this morning they worked up the bombardment to a pitch equal to any that has gone before. Then the bombardment ceased making way for the infantry.

One column sought to work its way along the railroad which in the Lorraine and Vosges sections, in the eastern extremity of the village, but it melted away under the French fire.

Columns debouching from Vaux Port, however, succeeded in getting a bare footing after intense fighting in the Fumih wood to the west and in the ruined Damloup battery, one of the subsidiary outer defenses of Verdun which lies three-quarters of a mile southwest of the village on the edge of the Laufe Plateau.

The advantage which the Germans obtained was not great since the battery is swept by guns from Souville, Tannes and Bourvaux.

The day's operations on the Somme were confined to completing the work of Sunday and yesterday of clearing the Germans out of those few isolated positions they still held in the bend of the Somme opposite Peronne. These French troops of the north of the Somme are continuing their preparations for the next move.

DYNAMITE USERS CAUSE REIGN OF TERROR ALONG PENNSYLVANIA RAILWAY

Altoona, Pa., July 12.—Pennsylvania railroad detectives are investigating today what appears to have been a deliberate attempt either to destroy railroad property or to wreck trains at Bellwood, seven miles east of here, late last night and early today. Shortly before midnight while a local train from Harrisburg was passing a water station west of Bellwood station, there was a terrific explosion and an investigation revealed that a heavy charge of dynamite had been set off with a time fuse.

Later railroad detectives and signal men found eighty-six sticks of dynamite, done up in packages, containing eight to ten sticks each, with fuses attached. They were scattered over the four tracks and some of the explosive was found in a water trough between the tracks. Shortly before 6 a. m. there was a second explosion about 150 feet from the Bellwood station. Still later there was an explosion of dynamite in two passenger coaches which had been stored for the night on the Bellwood division tracks of the Pennsylvania at Bellwood. One of them was so badly damaged that it is unfit for service. An investigation showed that the dynamite in the cars had been set off evidently with time fuses.

Patrols were immediately sent out by railroad officials and all stations in the middle division were notified to be on guard. All trains east and west were held up until the tracks were cleared.

It was reported early today, but not confirmed, that the dynamite was planted by two men dressed as women with the aid of accomplices hiding beneath a culvert near where the explosions occurred.

ALLIES PREPARE FOR NEW ADVANCE IN THE WEST, RUSSIANS BUSY

BULLETIN

London, July 12.—The English port of Seaham Harbour was attacked last night by a German submarine. About thirty rounds of shrapnel were fired.

One woman was killed by the bombardment. One house was struck by a shell.

London, July 12.—Although the extent of ground which has been gained by the British offensive is not great, there is general satisfaction in England at the success attained by the army of General Haig during the twelve days of fighting and the belief exists that the advantageous positions now occupied will make possible greater achievements.

The capture of Cantalmaison, Mametz and Trones woods, gives the British a line running almost due east and west, so that the Germans to the north can be attacked on the flank when the guns are brought up for the second phase of the operations.

To the south of the river the French are in a position somewhat similar to the British and likewise can attack the German flank south of Heli and Estrea. For the moment, however, the two armies are engaged in preparing their new positions.

REPORTED PINSK ABOUT TO FALL

London, July 12.—Special dis-rids through the marshes—a species patches from Petrograd reflect the of warfare in which the Russians feeling that Pinsk is likely soon to fall before General Brusiloff's advance.

The Daily News' Petrograd correspondent says: "We now are rapidly approaching the moment when General Brusiloff, having cleared the Pinsk marshes region, begins directly to threaten the right flank of the German position generally."

Nashville, Tenn., July 12.—An epidemic of measles has broken out in the state mobilization camp and one battalion of the Third Infantry is under quarantine. There are seven cases of measles in the battalion. Officers fear that the epidemic may interfere with their immediate departure for the border.

GERMAN 'SUB' IN ENGLISH PORT

London, July 12.—The official announcement says: At 10:30 o'clock last night a German submarine appeared off the small undefended port of Seaham Harbour (on the North Sea, 8 miles southeast of Sunderland and a coal shipping port.)

It approached within a few hundred yards of the town and then opened fire. Some thirty rounds of shrapnel were fired from a 3-inch gun. Twenty rounds fell in the direction of Daltondale; a dozen rounds fell in and around Seaham colliery.

A woman walking through the colliery yard was seriously injured and died this morning. One house was struck by a shell. No other damage was done.

U. S. TROOPS MOVED TO BIG BEND DISTRICT TO RECEIVE BANDITS

El Paso, Texas, July 12.—Two der patrol in the Big Bend district. The orders followed closely reports from the district that Mexican bandits had raided the Lamula Mine, an American property about one hundred miles south of the border and that residents along the frontier near Roquillas, Texas, feared the outlaws were moving north. Belief was expressed in military circles that it was this band that General Carranza referred to when he warned the state department that he was informed that Villa bandits were moving north from Jimenez with the intention of attacking the American border.

Mexican authorities in Juarez said today they were without information concerning the band but assumed if the reports of the raiding of the mine are correct it was done by one of the detachments of the Villa band who scattered after the recent attack on Jimenez.

CAPTAIN KOENIG AND CREW GIVEN A $10,000 CHECK

New York, July 12.—A check for $10,000 was sent last night to Captain Paul Koenig, captain of the German submarine Deutschland, by August Heckscher, a New York capitalist, in recognition of the submarine's feat. The sum will be distributed among the officers and the men. Mr. Heckscher sent the check through Charles Von Hel-molt, manager of the North German Lloyd Steamship Company.

"DEUTSCHLAND" WILL RETURN WITH RUBBER AND NICKEL CARGO, OTHER "SUBS" WILL BRING DRUGS

(Bulletin)

Norfolk, Va., July 12.—It is reported here that the tug Thomas F. Timmons has left Baltimore for the Virginia Capes. Some believe the tug is under orders to meet the German under sea boat Bremen reported enroute to an American port.

Baltimore, Md., July 12.—Feeling secure in their belief that the state department at Washington will sustain the findings of the treasury and navy officials that the Deutschland is a merchant ship and therefore entitled to all the privileges due to a belligerent-owned freighter, under international law, the agents of the super-submersible today went ahead with their plans for disposing of the vessel's cargo and preparations for the return voyage.

It is known that the Deutschland will take aboard a cargo of rubber and nickel, and her captain in his declaration to the local customs officers said he expected to sail "within ten days."

Already there is discussion concerning the return cargo and for other underwater liners which are expected to follow the Deutschland to American shores. These vessels, it was reliably stated, will carry back the most essential food stuffs that Germany and Austria-Hungary need. Coffee was specifically named as one of the commodities. It was also declared that the Bremen, constructed by the same company that built the Deutschland, and reported from Berlin last night as about to sail, will carry drugs that are much needed in this country, and which cannot be obtained from any other than German sources.

Colts Have Retained Their Classy Players; Huntington Loses Out

PORTSMOUTH.
LEXINGTON.
WATKINSVILLE.
CHILLICOTHE.

These are the cities that will make up the Ohio State league circuit for the second half, which opens Thursday with Portsmouth in Lexington and Watkinstown in Chillicothe.

The Lexington fans completed arrangements yesterday to retain their classy team and as a result Huntington will not be in the Carr organization during the second half. All arrangements had been made to transfer the Colts bodily to Huntington with the exception of securing the consent of the fans of that city. They reneged on the deal and after $2,500 was raised the Colts remained in good old Lexington.

Portsmouth, Mayaville, Chillicothe and Lexington will make up a strong circuit and there is no doubt but what more interest will be shown in the second half games than there were in the first.

Mayaville has practically revamped its team and the Babes will get the pick of the Huntington, Charleston and Frankfort players, a high class ball team to be mobilized for Chillicothe, which is expected to stage a real come back in the baseball world.

President Joe Carr has been in Babtown several days and all arrangements have been made for that city's re-entry into the classic products of the Ohio State. All games will be played in the same park in Babtown and the fur will fly when the Babes and Champs hook up.

The second half schedule is being shaped by President Carr.

Forfeit Money Raised In Chilly

Chillicothe, July 12.—Chillicothe will get its first peep at the new Babe club today. The team will report here Wednesday, be fitted out with suits and under Manager Watt Powell will go through a short workout at League Park in the afternoon.

By the time the team reports enough subscriptions will have been collected from Chillicothe merchants and business men, the committee says, to post the $300 forfeit. In two hours Monday afternoon the committee collected $200 and in about 45 minutes Monday evening another $100 was secured.

With the forfeit money on hand the committee will then give its entire attention to boosting the opener. Boosters' tickets for the Red lifting exercises at League Park Thursday afternoon will be on the streets not later than Wednesday morning. They may be secured either from Secretary Robert Gunning at Hanks and Gunning or from Deputy Sheriff George Hamm.

Mayaville will be the attraction, and "Muck" McGraw, old time Babe, will pitch for the Kentucky invaders.

number of merchants have consented to closing their stores for the afternoon. Attempts will be made to secure a band for the occasion.

The committee in charge will meet here with League President Joe Carr and Manager Powell to decide upon the offer which the Pittsburgh Nationals have made for the two Babe pitchers, Coffindaffer and Carpenter. If Pittsburgh will take the two twirlers on trial and send two to fill their places here it is possible that the deal will go through.

NEWS PLEASES THE FANS

News that the second half of the Ohio State league season is to open Thursday with the Babes back in the fold will be balled with delight in local fandom.

"This is one of the best moves the league could make," President Gableman stated last night when he received official word from President Carr that the Babes had secured a franchise and that Lexington had retained its team.

HERZOG WILL GO

Cincinnati, July 12.—Manager Herzog has broken his silence regarding the multitude of rumors of trades, in which he was to be a party.

Herzog has declined to discuss the stories, merely reiterating his confidence in the team he has gathered. Today he said:

"Well, I guess I am hooked for a transfer. What I don't know, however, is where I go. I know that Boston, Brooklyn, Chicago and Philadelphia have made propositions for me, but I don't know which club, if any, is to have me. If it has to be so, I'm sorry—I've done my best and tried hard anyway."

If baseball is ever decided by a direct primary we are going before the pop-eyed fanatics and insist upon a platform that will bring Cincinnati and Cleveland together in a world series.

In the first place they have one coming. In the second place, we yearn for some excitement beyond the ordinary stuff.

There are more than one or two that refuse to take the New York Yankees and the Cleveland Indians seriously as pennant contenders. But these details should be held in mind: The Yankees and Indians have been up at the top, despite the fact that both clubs had the toughest luck in their leagues—the longest luck in the game.

Auburn, N. Y., July 12.—Secretary J. F. Farrell, of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues announced last night that the franchises of the Frankfort, Ky., Charleston, W. Va. and Huntington, W. Va. teams had been forfeited to the Ohio State league.

With the forfeit money on hand the committee will then give its entire attention to boosting the opener. ## SOME MORE CANT

In a certain city, which, we are happy to say, we have forgotten the name of, the mayor has issued a proclamation to police that the principal duty is not to find and arrest law and ordinance violators, but to teach the evilly disposed the errors of their ways. In other words he is going to have moral suasion take the place of the swinging club.

Immediately the cackle of the upper air and solar press goes up that this is the thing. The brutal police and the brutal demeanor of the law in dealing with the derelict must go. The reason for failure in municipal government is that it has sought to rule by force and penalty rather than by mildness and precept. And the funny thing is that some people really believe that. They hold some miraculous power abides in soft words and generous words, when they are applied to a criminal that they have not with the peaceable and the colossal folly of the past and the present is that it seeks to punish rather than to reform. Fine state, indeed, we would have if we converted police into exhorters and evangelists and stood them on the corners at midday and sunset to call on the wicked to repentance to come to order and sent them during the day as evangelists to haunts of the thug and the thief to plead with him to learn the sweetness and joy of peace and honesty.

The home, the school, the church, have failed to hold in the paths of honor and right conduct, but the law, the policeman and precept can work a miracle, through waving the wand of "don't do it again; it's wrong."

Well, a good many people will chase a foolish theory round an ever widening circle and never think a sensible fact worth regarding.

A SIMPLE WAY TO HEALTH

In a letter to Robert Grimshaw, of the New York University, William Muldoon, who ranks as one of the foremost re-makers of physically broken down men, gives advice that it would be well for every man and woman, boy and girl in America to take to heart. He says:

I was taught in early manhood not to throw my shoulders back, stick my chest out, draw my stomach in, or hold my chin down like a goat preparing to butt, but to always try and touch some imaginary thing with the crown of my head. If one tries to do that—first understands how to try and then tries—he doesn't have to pay any attention to the rest of his physical being; that effort to touch something above him, not with his forehead, but with the crown of his head, will keep every particle of his body in the position that Nature intended it should be. And as a boy I was advised to frequently back up against the wall and make the back of my head, my shoulders, hips, heels, all press against the wall at the same time; and in that way get an idea of what was straight, or, in other words, how crooked I was becoming by drooping.

Mr. Muldoon is one of the finest specimens of physical manhood in the world. This advice he gives he incorporated in reply to a question as to his view of military training. He is heartily in favor of thorough training and drilling of every male. He thinks a wonderful amount of good would result if it were made compulsory.

Both to young and old his "hold your head up" suggestion is inspiring. "Try it. The effect physically and mentally is immediate. And why shouldn't it be? When the head goes higher the impulse is to deeper breathing. A man finds more elasticity in his limbs. He steps out with more ease. There is more spring to his gait. He isn't a lumbering, shambling creature but a man alive. With the elevation of the crown of the head there seems to come clearer thinking, a more buoyant feeling and a brighter outlook.

What Mr. Muldoon terms "the effort to touch something above him" is the thing that makes all the progress of the world. Without it we would decay. If it is so with the spirit of man it certainly appears reasonable that it should be so with the body of man. At any rate it is worthy of trial when recommended by so high an authority.—From Commerce and Finance.

CARING FOR THE HORSE

We are quite busy these days in giving advice to autoists and have been apt to overlook that faithful friend of man, the horse. However, he is called to mind by the receipt of some hot weather rules for the care of horses from the Boston Work Horse Relief Association. They are good rules for horse owners to follow:

Load lightly, and drive slowly.

Stop in the shade if possible.

Water your horse as often as possible. So long as a horse is working, water in small quantities will not hurt him. But let him drink only a few swallows if he is going to stand still. Do not fail to water him at night after he has eaten his hay.

When he comes in after work, sponge off the harness marks and sweat, his eyes, his nose and mouth, and the dock. Wash his feet but not his legs.

If the thermometer is 75 degrees or higher, wipe him all over with a damp sponge. Use vinegar water if possible. Do not turn the hose on him.

Saturday night, give a bran mash, lukewarm; and add a tablespoonful of saltpetre.

Do not use a horse-hat, unless it is a canopy-top hat. The ordinary bell-shaped hat does more harm than good.

A sponge on top of the head, or even a cloth, is good if kept wet. If dry it is worse than nothing.

If the horse is overcome by heat, get him into the shade, remove harness and bridle, wash out his mouth, sponge him all over,

Sketches from Life . . . By Temple

Distraction

showers his legs, and give him two ounces of aromatic spirits of ammonia, or two ounces of sweet spirits of nitre, in a pint of water, or, if necessary, chopped ice, wrapped in a cloth.

If the horse is off his feed, try him with two quarts of oats mixed with bran, and a little water; and add a little salt or sugar. Or give him oatmeal gruel or barley water to drink.

Watch your horse. If he stops sweating suddenly, or if he breathes short and quick, or if his ears droop, or if he stands with his legs braced sideways, he is in danger of a heat or sun stroke and needs attention at once.

If it is so hot that the horse sweats in the stable at night, tie him outside, with bedding under him. Unless he cools off during the night, he cannot well stand the next day's heat.

'Sawful hard to stir up political enthusiasm in July.

CORN ON THE COB

That most fascinating of all land foods, corn on the cob, is again with us, and society is all agog. Corn on the cob always creates a sensation. It knows well enough that it has no business to appear in polite society, yet each year it intrudes itself into the best dining rooms and the most exclusive cafes. Corn on the cob is not wicked—it does not base its appeal on its wickedness. Let us see, then, on what it does base its appeal. Corn is essentially a barn food. When it appears in a dining-room it always causes a certain amount of embarrassment. People look at each other to see how the intruder is to be welcomed. And finally—invariably—it is always accepted fully and unreservedly as a regular dining-room food—and people eat it. We should say that the chief charm of corn on the cob is its audacity. It is like some of the characters we recall in Bernard Shaw and Oscar Wilde plays. It butts in where it has no business, and society cannot resist it.

What sight is sweeter than a beautiful, blushing debutante gawking at a cob full of corn? It is almost as if you had caught her out wading. She does not know what to do, with her eyes; she cannot look at the corn and eat it too. There is no where that a debutante may flirt more effectively than from behind a cob full of corn. Every debutante should get a lot of corn. Oh, it is so welcome to eat corn from a cob! It may be depraved—but, thank goodness, the old Puritan days are past!

Billy Surprises Chirpy Sparrow

"Come here! Come here! Come here!" called Chirpy Sparrow to his little mate.

But she paid no attention to him. She went right along with her toilet, for she was a neat, proper little sparrow and she wasn't pleased with the set of her feathers and she meant to arrange them better before she stopped.

"Come here! Come here! Come here!" repeated Chirpy, and he said it exactly as if he meant what he said.

"Yes?" answered Mrs. Chirpy, and she gave him a soft little shake, quite as though she was saying to herself, "I wonder how those feathers are now?"

"Come here! Come here! Come here!" shouted Chirpy, now really cross. "When I see something I want you to see and call you to see it, you should come!"

"Now, Chirpy, don't get excited," laughed Mrs. Chirpy, pleasantly. "You wouldn't like me very well if I wasn't tidy, and I assure you my feathers were a sight! What was it you wanted me to see? I'm sure it's something interesting." And she hopped down by Chirpy and began looking around.

That restored Chirpy's good humor at once (as Mrs. Chirpy knew quite well that it would), and he told her to follow him if she wanted to see something funny.

They hopped and skipped over to the front yard, and what do you suppose they saw there? Mrs. Chirpy saw it even before Chirpy had time to tell her where to look, and she began to laugh. They saw Billy Robin standing on his head trying to get a worm!

Think of that! Maybe he wasn't really truly standing on his head—they couldn't be quite sure about that—but he looked as though he was and that was sure, funny enough to laugh at. Wouldn't you think so? He dug his strong bill down into the ground and kicked his claws in the air and how he did wiggle and squirm!

Just then Billy Robin stopped his wiggling and jerking and disappeared into the ground and stood up straight in his usual fashion.

"What have you been doing, Billy?" cried Chirpy eagerly.

Billy laughed. "I thought you had known me long enough to know that the only thing I work that hard for is food," he said. "I just now ate a fine, fat, juicy worm; but how I did have to work to get him! I thought I would have to stand on my head before I got through!"

The sparrows laughed and said, "We thought so too!"

NEW-YORK-DAY-BY-DAY

O-O-MEINTYRE.

New York, July 12.—Another Park Row city editor has succumbed to the lure of the cinema.

Robert Emmett MacAlarney has quit city editing the Tribune to become scenario chief for Jesse L. Lasky. He is quitting the newspaper field because the movie is a game that appeals to him—and, incidentally, it is said he will receive the highest salary ever paid a scenario editor.

The movie game is fast gobbling up the reportorial and editorial stars of newspaperdom. Most scenario editors receive contracts, and that is much to their liking. We once served under Mr. MacAlarney on a New York newspaper.

He represents the new type of city editor in contrast to the old type familiar to readers of newspaper stories—the kind that tear their hair and cow budding young cubs. In our several years' association with him, we had the unusual experience of not once hearing him call a member of the staff down openly.

He did it behind closed doors and it was always just as effective and eliminated the humiliating sting of embarrassment. In quitting the newspaper game Mr. MacAlarney was also forced to resign as president of the New York City News Association.

He continues, however, as associate in journalism at the Pulitzer School at Columbia.

There is still some prejudice, it would appear, against the strolling player, although most people thought it was extinct. In the Evening Telegram the landlady of a boarding house advertises for "Lady or Actress."

The strike of the Fifth Avenue bus drivers made life a hard struggle for dwellers on Riverside drive last week. Unless one owns a car, one must walk to one's nearest elevated, subway or surface car, and sometimes it is a long hike. Jean Knott, the cartoonist, had just come over from St. Louis and rented an apartment on the Drive for the summer.

He was induced to rent it largely because the former inhabitant left a very handsome poker table. He was to report to his office the next morning at 9 o'clock. The bus strike started the night before and after waiting two hours he walked to his office and arrived there at the bewitching hour of 12.

"Did your boss believe your story?" a friend asked.

"Oh, certainly," he replied, with a fringe of sarcasm. "I had just as much chance of convincing him as the chance a motorist's word has against a policeman."

James J. Montague is just back from Atlantic City with a new yarn. It was sunrise on the beach. How Montague happened to be up at that time has nothing to do with the story—just incidental stuff. Out on the sands came a man in evening clothes, carrying a cane and wearing a silk hat. He had a list to the starboard but seemed quite happy withal.

He weaved from side to side, sometimes getting dangerously near the ocean and at other times doing a running backward movement toward the boardwalk.

After watching him for some time, Montague approached him and said: "Old fellow, why don't you get up on the boardwalk?"

"What do you think I am—a tight rope walker?" was the very snappy reply.

The Bearded Lady at Coney Island came from a small town in Ohio. She is very sad now, for one of her best friends has listened to the call to arms and has joined his colors on the border. He is the Tattooed Man, and joined a New York regiment. They have been friends for many years, traveling about the country together with circuses. The Bearded Lady is much older and is sort of a mother to the Human Art Gallery. He is married to the Circassian Beauty born near the Black Sea.

Wanderlust

The joy to roam, the joy to roam,
The thrill to wander free,
When waters break in shining foam,
And green is every tree,
And the road is like a ribbon laid
As far as eye can see!

But love, alas! dwells not in tents
Beside the highway long,
And duty keeps her dwelling house
Where countless labors throng.
In places where too faintly comes
The lark's infrequent song!

And who would love and duty change
For alien sea and skies,
Who fears not age where no friends
Are,
Nor woman's tender eyes,
Now when the year is green and young,

'Toro God, let him arise!

But he shall long to change at last.
The mosques of Samarcand,
The Himalaya's awful crest,
The Gauges' haunted land,
And the sights of the whole wide world, methinks,
For the touch of a friendly hand!

In a town in Maryland one Bill Morton appeared before the postmaster one morning, and the following colloquy occurred:

"Morning, Mr. Postmaster."

"Morning, Bill."

"Has Tom Moore been in for his mail yet?"

"No."

"Will you be here when he comes?"

"I guess so."

"Well, when he comes in will you tell him that on his way from the cheese factory I wish he'd stop and get that pig of Herman Stutz' and take it down to Henry Parker's, and tell Henry I said he could have it for that single harness even up, if he'll fix that bridle and throw in them russet lines instead of the old black ones; and if he won't trade, tell Tom to bring the pig down to my place and put it in the extra pen, and be sure and shut that door to the henhouse, or all the chickens'll get out. Sure there ain't no mail?"

The employer of a Polish girl who has learned quickly to speak English tells of her attempted mastery of the telephone. After its use was explained to her she was eager to answer every call. A ring came and she jumped to the telephone.

"I don't know," exclaimed the maid. "I can't see you."

BODY IS RECOVERED; DYNAMITE WAS USED

(BULLETIN)
The body was recovered at 9:45 this morning near where the boy sank to his death. So large a crowd soon collected that police were sent to the scene.

The body of John F. Moore, 12-year-old son of Mrs. Ella Moore, a widow of 1016 Chillicothe street (rear), who was drowned while swimming in the Scioto river Tuesday noon, had not been recovered.

Wednesday morning
A dozen or more sticks of dynamite were discharged Tuesday afternoon in the water near where the boy disappeared in an effort to raise the body but without result. Some persons express the opinion that the boy's body is probably further out in the river. There was talk among North End citizens who greatly sympathize for the grief-stricken mother, of asking Diver Nate Williams to make a thorough search for the body. The mother and her other little seven year old son Henry spent Tuesday night at the home of friends on Tenth street.

Mrs. Moore earns a livelihood over the wash tub and the drowned boy had just commenced to be of some help to her, turning over to her practically every cent he earned at odd jobs.

Two Couples Arrested In Park At Midnight, Placed In Jail

Two boys and two girls giving the names of "Did" Cutlip, 23, John Denning, 22, Garnet Stevenson, 16, and Mayne Moore, 16, were arrested Tuesday at midnight in Millbrook park by Park Police Henry Koger and Martin Hall on a charge of loitering and were taken to the county jail.

Although the girls, the officials claim, stoutly maintain that they are sixteen years old, they look considerably younger.

At the time the quartette were arrested, the young men were taking the girls up the street car tracks near the power house. "Did" Cutlip, the officers say, had a package under his arm which contained six bottles of beer.

Two Boys Arrested, One Is Being Held

Two boys giving the names of John Buckley and John Kirsch mixed it up quite lively in a fight they had at Second and Chillicothe streets Tuesday afternoon. The Kirsch boy was taken into custody by the police for they had been looking for him as he was wanted in connection with the petty thieving that has been going on at the Peerless bathing beach.

Bathing suits, neck ties and other articles of value have been stolen from some of the men's dressing tents. Kirsch was committed to the juvenile court. Cecil Lewis had been arrested the day before for stealing at the beach and is also locked up at the county jail.

A. C. Frowine Says It Pays To Advertise

That it pays to advertise is shown that the Times containing a small display ad for A. C. Frowine had not been on the streets more than an hour Tuesday evening, when Mr. Frowine disposed of more than 150,000 brick which he had advertised for sale. At that rate Mr. Frowine will soon dispose of every brick on the six acre tract of land which he recently purchased from the Portsmouth Brick and Tile company.

This land, which lies south and east of the Waite Furniture company's big plant, is considered to be one of the most desirable building sites in Portsmouth. It is level and high and Mr. Frowine has already placed 25 lots on the market. The remaining forty he will hold for some time. He expects to at once begin the erection of three houses, which he will sell.

"The Supreme Sacrifice" is the title of the new World Film feature, starring Robert Warwick, to be seen on the screen of the Lyric theatre today. It is an adaptation of the novel "To Him That Hath," by Leroy Scott, and is said to furnish the popular stir with a powerful and appealing role.

The theme of "The Supreme Sacrifice" is, as the title suggests, gests, one involving a man's sacrifice of all that he holds dear in life for the sake of a dead friend's reputation. The biblical quotation, "Greater love hath no man than that he should lay down his life for his friend," is gone one better. For in this instance the man's love for his friend leads him to sacrifice what many men consider a more valuable possession than life itself. The suffering he endures and the struggle he makes to regain a position in the world, leads up to a tremendously dramatic climax and a logically happy ending when a woman's love proves itself steadfast and brings the hero to the threshold of future happiness.

The cast surrounding Mr. Warwick is exceptionally well selected, including such prominent photoplayers as Vernon Steele, Christine Mayo, Anna Q. Nilsson, Robert Forsyth, Jessie Lewis and Dion Tithergate.

Charlie Chaplin in "The Floorwalker" is an added attraction tonight.

The climax comes when the husband returning home, is reported to the police as a burglar by Pierre, and is taken into police custody.

Quarterly Mass Meeting Of C. E. Societies Held Tuesday Night, Delegates Make Reports

With about seventy-five in attendance, the quarterly mass meeting of the County Christian Endeavor Union was held in the Sunday School room of the First Presbyterian church Tuesday evening with the members showing much enthusiasm in their work. Christian Endeavor Societies from different parts of the county were well represented.

All-local Christian Endeavors, First, Second and Central Presbyterian, First and Grandview Avenue Christian churches, had large delegations present.

The meeting opened at 7:30, Harry Smith, county president, acting as chairman. Lloyd Craden of the First Christian church, took charge of the song and praise service. Several numbers were rendered by the congregation followed by prayer by Rev. George P. Horst, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church. Mr. Smith gave the scripture reading. During the song service Miss Emma Dellert, president at the piano. The banner received by the Scioto County C. E. U. at the State C. E. convention was displayed.

The business session proved quite interesting. Everett Drew, treasurer, gave his report. Mr. Craden read the resolutions adopted at the first annual county C. E. convention recently held at the Second Presbyterian church. The resolutions declared the convention a spiritual and practical success due largely to the efficient work of the county convention committee. The resolutions expressed thanks and sincere appreciation for the efforts of the committee, the generosity of the local churches, work of county officers and expressed gratitude to the convention speakers and singers to the publicity committee and the Daily Times. Lloyd Craden, Orin B. Catlin, Ella M. Cook, Della Fillmore and Bertha Wilhelm formed the resolution committee.

Reports were then heard from a delegate from each local Christian Endeavor who attended the State C. E. convention held recently in Springfield.

Miss Emma Dellert of the First Presbyterian church, gave a report of the music and missionary talks. Miss Dellert said the musical part of the convention was given a great swing on the arrival of Mr. Rodeheaver from the "Billy" Sunday party. He said: "Your C. E. songs should be more effective. Songs are as important as prayer. Don't sing too many of the old songs. Strike a happy medium between the two. The songs should carry interest and the message of the meeting. Have a good leader in your singing. Have a music committee and have the leader work with the committee. Meetings are killed in a great many instances by unappreciative songs." She also dwelt some time on the missionary department work.

Miss Tena Cook of the Central Presbyterian church gave a report on the Tenth Legion and Quiet Hour divisions. "Much time was given to talks on observance on the quiet hour. Each C. E. member should give 15 minutes each morning to the study of the bible, this being the quiet hour work. Our minds are fresh and clear in the morning. Have a set time to observe the quiet hour. One third of all Christian Endeavors are comrades of the Quiet Hour." On discussing the Tenth Legion work Miss Cook said: "Give cheerfully, if we pay right."

"The United States would not now be spending so much money to prepare for war with Mexico if she would have spent the money in evangelizing the country. She is spending more to capture one man than was ever spent for evangelism for Mexico."

Wesley Ridgeman of the Second Presbyterian church gave a report on the publicity work. "The publicity department consisted mainly of exhibits of ideas, many posters and newspaper clippings being on display. All counties except Scioto had a display. We will do better next time. One of the best advertising points for C. E. work is the wearing of a C. E. pin or button."

Lloyd Craden gave a report on the Junior and Intermediate work. He told of how the two have been separated and placed under different superintendents. "These divisions of the C. E. work are becoming more and more popular." He spoke of the importance of Junior work and told how the young children at 12 and 13 years of age remember things better at this age. "Install the C. E. work in the child. From 14 to 18 is the decision age. This is the time for intermediate work."

Conferences of different committees postponed at the county convention were then held. The meeting closed with lemonade and

Had Not Bathed Or Combed Hair In Ten Years, Sent To Athens

Evangelical Society Planning To Install Fountain, May Form Choir

One of the best meetings in the history of the German Evangelical Brotherhood was held Tuesday evening.

A committee composed of George Kah, Edward Yenger and Will Blaukenmeyer was named to meet with the building committee of the church and arrange for the installation of a drinking fountain in the Sunday school. The members saw a fountain in St. John's church, Columbus, and have decided that one should be installed in the local church. Plans were also discussed for the forming of a vested choir. The younger members of the Brotherhood will take up the matter with the present choir.

George Washington Means, delegate to the State Brotherhood convention recently held in Columbus, gave a splendid report of the different sessions which he attended. The Social committee, consisting of Oscar Kah, Arthur Linck, Frank Rowe, George Kah, Jr., and Albert Schmidt, served refreshments of ice cream and cake.

"WEDGE" GAME WAS WORKED ON FOREIGNER

Louis Fargiuele, who conducts a fruit stand on Waller street, near Tenth, was the victim of a "wedge" game and had his till tapped by strange negroes late Tuesday afternoon.

After one purchased a package of peanuts, another called for some pop and while the foreigner was bent over getting the bottle out of an ice box one negro pushed the other against him and struck him twice on the head, then reached over and grabbed $1.25 in change from a cigar box. They then bolted from the place with Fargiuele in pursuit.

Il S. Taylor, a colored employee of Contractor Robert Gray, recognized "Bubber" Martin, whom Fargiuele pointed out as one of the men, as the same who a few minutes before had followed him about the waiting room of the N. & W. depot and after sitting down alongside him placed his hands in his coat pocket. Taylor had suspected the fellow and after purchasing seven railroad tickets to Waverly noticed he had seen him place his roll, amounting to $38.45, in his pocket, so he promptly switched the money to his hip pocket. This precaution is all that saved him from being robbed, he said.

Martin and two chance acquaintances, Jesse Dixon and Jack Davis, also Southern negroes, were arrested. The latter two were dismissed in police court Wednesday for want of evidence while Martin was fined $25 and costs and sentenced to 30 days in the workhouse. The negro who got the money made his escape.

Plans are being prepared to remodel the famous Warner house in Chillicothe. There will be a new dining room, an entire new onyx front and handsome tiled vestibule. It is contemplated that the building when remodeled will be one of the best small city hotels in the state.

Army Departments In Congressional Districts Will Likely Be Established

Washington, D. C., July 12.—A proposal that an army quarter-master department be established in each congressional district, it would take only a few hours to get supplies to the troops.

If there is any variation from normal in a regiment, a delay follows while that fact reported and the necessary number of small or larger articles is packed and shipped.

With the congressional district ware house plan in operation, army officers believe a record could be made of each man's requirements as he enlisted and orders he filled with little delay. It is also pointed out that reserve soldiers and non-commissioned officers could care for supplies in storage, insuring proper handling and knowledge of requirements without great expense.

Delay in supplying the men with clothing and camp equipment said Brigadier General Sharpe, acting head of the quarter-master department, today, is due to the depot situation, and not to a shortage.

General Sharpe has sought for years to have a depot ware house system established. It is now necessary to send mobilization supplies from Philadelphia, St.

Louis or San Francisco. With separate ware houses in each congressional district, it would take only a few hours to get supplies to the troops.

EIGHTH REGIMENT IS AWAITING ORDERS TO MOVE SOUTH TO BORDER

Camp Willis, Columbus, O., July 12.—Equipment of the Eighth Regiment, Ohio National Guard, for border service will probably be completed today. Officers of the regiment believe that when their men are equipped orders to move south will not be long delayed.

Major Robert W. Mearns, chief mustering officer has assured the officers of the regiments that he will hurry along the process of providing the regiment with all the necessities for border duty.

The Eighth will undoubtedly be the first unit to receive full equipment. The First Cavalry squadron will probably be the second. Supplies are also being provided for the First Field Hospital Company and the Second Ambulance Company. It is said these organizations will probably go south with the First Ohio troops.

Federal inspection of Company F, Third Regiment, formerly the Cleveland Grays, is set for today.

CANTATA TO BE SUCCESS

The cantata to be given by the large chorus at the First Christian church Friday evening of this week, promises to be one of the musical treats of the season. Quite a number of tickets are reported sold by the choir, and by Friday evening it is hoped to have every ticket disposed of. The choir will meet both tonight and Thursday night for rehearsal and every member who expects to take part in the cantata is kindly asked to be present. Practice tonight immediately at the close of prayer meeting, which will close promptly at 8:30 o'clock. The program for the cantata will probably appear in Thursday's Times.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Mabel A. Coriell Burke. Pathetic circumstances surround the very sudden death of Mrs. Mabel A. Coriell Burke, aged 33 years, wife of Will W. Burke, at N. & W. car repairer, at their home, 2122 Seventh street, Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Left motherless by the sudden passing away of Mrs. Coriell are a two-weeks old baby, daughter and a two-year old son, William Lawson Burke.

Mrs. Coriell seemed to have fully recovered from the effects of child birth save that her heart was weak. She had been up and about but upon the advice of the family physician, Dr. O. R. Micklethwait was advised to lie down and remain quiet, after she had called him up Tuesday and said she was short of breath. She called him up again a half hour or forty-five minutes before she died saying she was feeling fine but hungry and wanted to know what she could eat. It seemed that a few minutes after she had called she raised up on her elbow and began feeling bad. A call was sent in for Dr. Micklethwait but he was absent from home. Another physician was then summoned. He found the young woman rapidly and completely turning blue. A hurry call was sent in for the city pulmonologist but she had expired before city forces could reach the home with the life saving device. An examination developed the fact that a blood clot had formed on her heart, causing death.

Mrs. Burke was a daughter of the late well known former Portsmouth jeweler, Ed Coriell, who died early this year. She was married five years ago to Mr. Burke and three children were born to them. The first child, Walter Edward, is deceased. She is also survived by her widowed mother, Mrs. Anna M. Coriell, of Gephart's Station and four brothers, Walter and Otto Y. Coriell, of this city, Edward E. Coriell, of Bowling Green, and Charles Coriell, of Cincinnati. She was a member of First Baptist church.

The funeral will take place from the home probably Thursday afternoon. Rev. B. F. Caudill will conduct the services. Burial will be in Greenlawn cemetery.
